ANNUAL REPORT
- of the -
SUPERVISOR OF SCHOOLS
1937-1938

SOCIAL STUDIES CURRICULUM

A well known educator recently said that modern education had "found the method but not the content". Now the tool subjects of reading, writing, arithmetic, and spelling have always been more or less stable, their value unquestioned. But we do believe that history contains knowledge more valuable than the dates of wars and names of battles; that there are parts of geography that have a closer connection to children's lives than do the names of countries and their capitals; that civics is more than memorizing the names and duties of governmental officials; that health means more than learning the names of various organs of the body.

Because they believed this and because they believed that children should get these learnings at the ages when they are most receptive to the various kinds of learnings the teachers of the territory made a careful study this year of the interests, abilities, and social needs of children at the various age levels and organized a new Social Studies Curriculum.

The new program aims to lead children to learn how people lived throughout the ages in times of peace as well as studying into those disturbances that lead to social upheaval; to learn that human nature is basically the same the world over and that it is their adjustment to various physical conditions that have caused people to live, act, and dress differently; to learn that children as well as adults have duties and privileges in the life of the community; that health rules are a necessary part of every day living. These and innumerable other learnings which have vital bearing on the child's life make up the Social Studies Program which will be used next year.

DRAMATIZATIONS

Those of the community who have attended the dramatic performances which the schools have presented have expressed their enjoyment and have been impressed by the self-confidence and poise of the children. Not all however look behind the scenes and realize the values, entirely aside from the entertainment end, which the children receive from preparing these programs. Few realize the reading and writing and planning and cooperative effort which go into the construction of the children's own version of a classic, the art and sewing and ingenuity which transforms inexpensive raw materials or cast-off articles into things of beauty for settings and properties and costumes, the leadership and personality development and the habits of working together with tolerance and good will which result from this type of activity.

SAFETY EDUCATION

The safety education work has been practical rather than theoretical. Children have studied the safety hazards of their own particular surroundings and formulated safety regulations which will be of actual value to them.

Each pupil in the upper grades of South Coventry selected a topic on Safety to which he gave special study. The group contributed to the program of a joint teachers' meeting by sending representatives who gave short talks on their special subjects. The Safety books which this group made are quite exceptional both in construction and content.

Both sections of the town considered Safety Education of such value that they devoted their graduation programs to the subject in order to bring before the public the things they had learned which have a vital bearing on the good of every member of the community.

NEWSPAPERS

Newspapers have been published as usual to keep parents and friends in touch with school activities. The use of colored hectograph ink has made colored illustrations possible and added much to the attractiveness of the papers.

GRADUATION

The graduation exercises were a culmination of the work actually done by the boys and girls during the year taking into consideration many of the school activities.

It was gratifying to see the graduates assuming leadership in their own closing exercises.

The following graduated from the town schools in June:

Elizabeth Louise Affricano
Arthur Clark Ayer
Catherine Barbara Bour
Margaret Lois Champlin
Louise Frances Chappell
Earl William Clark
Eunice Dorothy Crickmore

REPORT OF SCHOOL NURSE

Town of Coventry

1937 - 1938

The outstanding Public Health Service given our upper grades and high school pupils as well as parents in special cases during the year was the tuberculin skin test followed by the Chest X-Ray in questionable cases. No active tuberculosis was found. This program resulted in a greater interest on the part of parents in having a physical examination of questionable cases. It also stressed the importance of nutrition and rest.

The Safety Education programs were carried out in the schools. The National and State interest in this subject has made available much valuable material which has been used in the schools. The children have given a great deal of thought to this subject, and have made worthwhile contributions in improved safety measures on playgrounds, roads, and in the homes.

Following is a summary of health work done in the town:

- 203 school visits made
- 269 home visits made
- 93 class inspections made
- 1523 individual inspections made
- 123 children transported to clinics, dentists, physicians, hospitals and clinics
- 5 treatments adult boy request of doctor
- 2 adult group meetings attended
- 5 teachers' meetings attended
- 51 vaccinated against smallpox
- 101 given two doses toxoid in November and December by Dr. Gould Higgins, Health Officer
- Well child conference and pre-school round up in October
- Twenty-two children examined by physician
- Tuberculin skin test given - eighth grade and high school pupils
- All communicable diseases reported to Health Officer
- All pupils were given an eye-sight test, and defects reported to parents.
- Special emphasis was given nutrition in class room instruction.
- Family welfare work carried on in cooperation with town, church, and Red Cross organization
- Better Safety Education, etc.

HEALTH OFFICER'S REPORT

So. Coventry, Conn.
September 1, 1938

The Board of Selectmen
Town of Coventry

Sirs:

The first quarter of the past fiscal year was unusually free from communicable diseases.

During the first week of November and December, eighty (80) children were vaccinated against Smallpox and one hundred and forty (140) children received two injections of Toxoid for protection against Diphtheria. This was made possible by the fine co-operation of parents, teachers and the excellent assistance of your school nurse, Miss Margaret Danehy.

From March 22 to July 17 there were approximately twenty-five (25) known cases of Scarlet Fever. Fortunately, a majority of the cases were mild, but it should be thoroughly impressed on the minds of parents and guardians that a mild case in one child may expose another to a severe attack with possible, dangerous, complications; hence the great need for a strict compliance with quarantine regulations.

Several complaints have been received concerning the accumulation of garbage and other refuse on the watershed of Lake Wangumbaug. All complaints of any kind should be in writing, signed by the person or persons making complaint, and giving, when known, the name of the property owner and location of nuisance complained of. Anonymous reports may be helpful but they are not fully acceptable.

Inspections, required by the Sanitary Code of the State, have been made and in a majority of such, conditions have been found satisfactory.

Respectfully submitted,
Gould S. Higgins, M. D.
Health Officer.
